~100 Marines and sailors, 4x MV-22 Ospreys

FRSS* Team: provide JFC with a surgical medical capability (U.S. personnel assigned)

To provide logistical tilt-rotor airlift support to the Joint Force Commander and our interagency partners, specifically the U.S. Agency for International Development-led effort. At this time, there is no expectation that our Marines and Sailors will be working in high-risk areas or close to Ebola patients. However, we have deliberate preventative health measures in place to protect our Marines and Sailors. Every Marine and Sailor participating in this operation also received extensive training to prepare for the unique challenges associated with operating in this environment.

SPMAGTF-CR-AF West Africa Alert Force will assist in the building of Ebola treatment units and increase airlift capabilities to bring supplies in the harder to reach areas of Liberia; The U.S. Agency for International Development is the lead U.S. government organization for Operation United Assistance. U.S. Africa Command is supporting the effort by providing command and control, logistics, training and engineering assets to contain the Ebola virus outbreak in West African nations.

Evolution highlights the following AFRICOM Communication Themes: (1) Partnership for support and stability

(2) Response to crisis and humanitarian assistance

USMC Future Force Posture 2014-2020

The Nation's Crisis Response Force forward deployed and poised to rapidly respond to Crises within the arc of instability and within

In an era of fiscal austerity, force reductions, and uncertainty associated with the "New Norm" environment, the USMC Future Force Posture Plan thickens the forward deployed Marine force posture and provides more flexibility in employing the ARG/MEU within each Geographic Combatant Command (GCC) coupled with an inherent reach-back capability for additional USMC CONUS-Based CR Forces providing the NSS and Joint Staff with myriad Crisis Response options while gaining efficiencies in meeting GCC Security Cooperation and Security Force Assistance requirements.
